

HERALD CAMERA-MEN TELL THEIR STORY

BYRD FETED AS CONQUERER

Receptions, dinners, public testimonials and entertainments are allowing no rest in New York to Lieut. Comdr. Richard E. Byrd, first to fly over North Pole, and his companion, Floyd Bennett. They returned aboard the Byrd expedition ship, "Chantier." Photos show them (arrows) being acclaimed by the thousands who saw welcoming parade, and acknowledging the ovation.

On the Stump

Senorita Elvia Carrillo Puerto, 39, Socialist, is first woman candidate for Mexican congress. She lives in Tucuman.

General's General

New photo of the camera-shy Mrs. Lincoln C. Andrews, generalissimo of the prohibition enforcement army. She is popular in Washington.

SOUTHAMPTON, NEWPORT, VIE FOR SUPREMACY

Society is deserting New York for Southampton and Newport and again the question arises as to which is the more elevated of the smart set's summer havens. Both claim supremacy. Photos show early arrivals at Southampton: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rogers Benjamin on the beach, and (l. to r.) Alix Walker, Florence Havemeyer, Edith Wilmerding and Gwendolyn Fisk, prominent debs.

BYRD'S MOTHER'S WORRIES OVER

With her adventurous son Richard, first to fly over North Pole, home again, Mrs. Richard E. Byrd, Sr., of Virginia, is knowing her first peace of mind in months. She is seen greeting him in New York, with the remark, "You look thin."

Sweet Sixteen

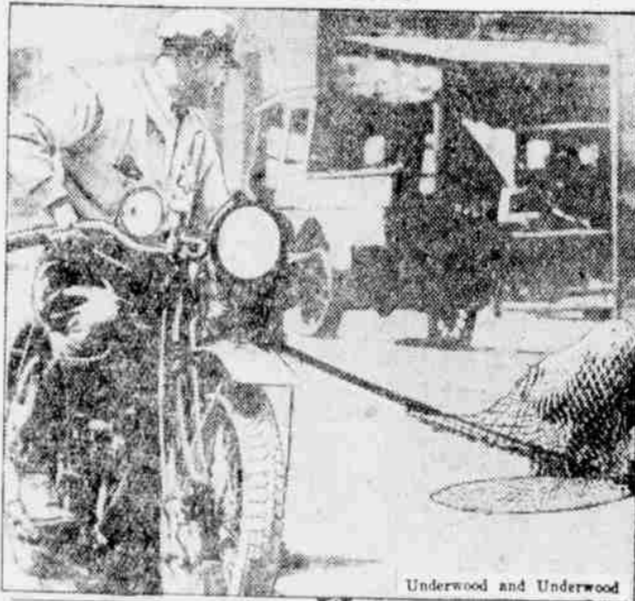

Hazel Forbes, 16, Astoria, N. Y., waving goodbye to committee which is going abroad to select a French entrant for international beauty match, to be held in New York in fall, with Hazel as sole U. S. contestant.

CAPITAL'S "PRETTY PEGGY"

Peggy Walsh, popular member of younger social set, is Washington's newest entry for beauty honors.

DOGGONE!

Stray dogs don't escape canine catchers in Pittsburg, Cal., any more. The officers use motorcycles and fishermen's nets.

MOTORCYCLE TAXIS INVADE N. Y.

New York, with more taxicabs than any city in the world, now is trying out motorcycle taxis in the hope that they will relieve traffic. They're cheaper than their big brothers.

Rescued

Thrilling tale of an abduction from a bathing beach, a dash into Mexico, an escape, hours of wandering and eventual discovery by friendly Americans, is told by Mrs. Aimee Semple MacPherson, Los Angeles preacher, who was found in Douglas, Ariz., after being missing for weeks.

CATHOLIC CONCLAVE WINDS UP IN BLAZE OF GLORY

More than a million lights shining in the eucharistic stadium, Chicago, as final sessions of the congress are held. The army of pilgrims held candles during this night ceremony.

GOB IS HERO AS S-51 SINKS AGAIN

Unnamed seaman proved himself a hero when S-51, ill-fated submarine, was raised from ocean off New London Conn., only to sink again. The gob swam through rough seas to close air valves on pontoons, shown here, and keep them from sinking again. Another attempt will be made to raise the sub and its cargo of corpses. Arrow shows prow momentarily above water.

Neck Broken, Lives

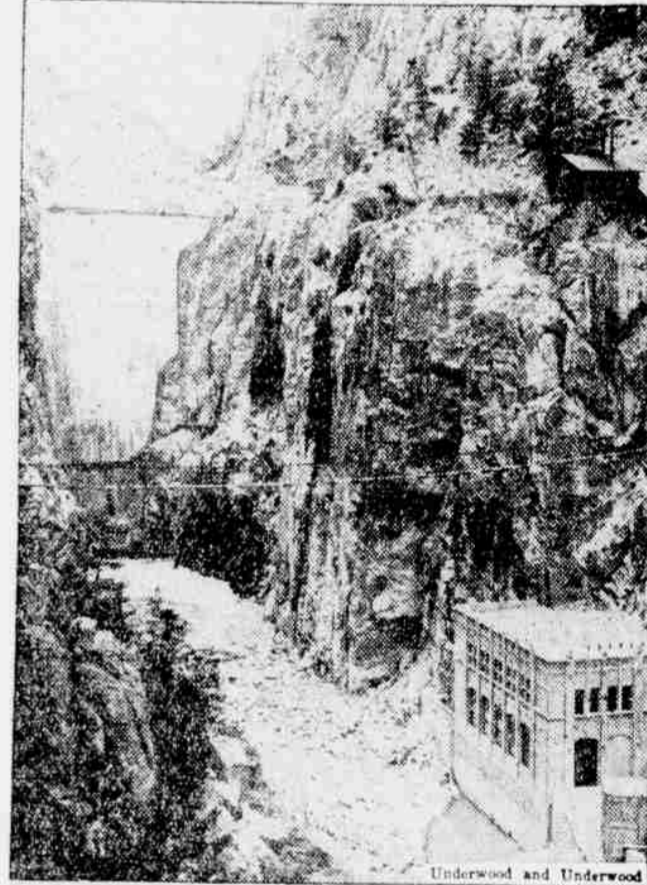

"I'll Charleston yet," avows Mrs. W. H. Sturgis, Allerton, Mass., whose neck was broken in a fall five months ago. She has not moved since, a special frame keeping her body rigid. Doctors now believe she may recover.

Adorns Literature

Face of Albina Lemoncelli, 18, Boston, chosen as prettiest Italian girl in New England, will adorn jacket of new novel by an Italian author.

TRANSFORMS 100,000 ACRES

New and striking view of the Shoshone dam, built in a gorge of the Shoshone river, Wyoming, to provide irrigation for 100,000 barren acres. It is 323 feet high and 200 feet long.

SEEING CAPITOL WITHOUT BEING BOTHERED BY NOISE

Newest view of United States Capitol shows how it looks to crew of U. S. S. Los Angeles when they take a cruise over Washington. House office building is at right; senate offices at left; Library of Congress at rear.